St Peter & St Paul's Church

Newport Pagnell

St. Peter and St. Paul's church

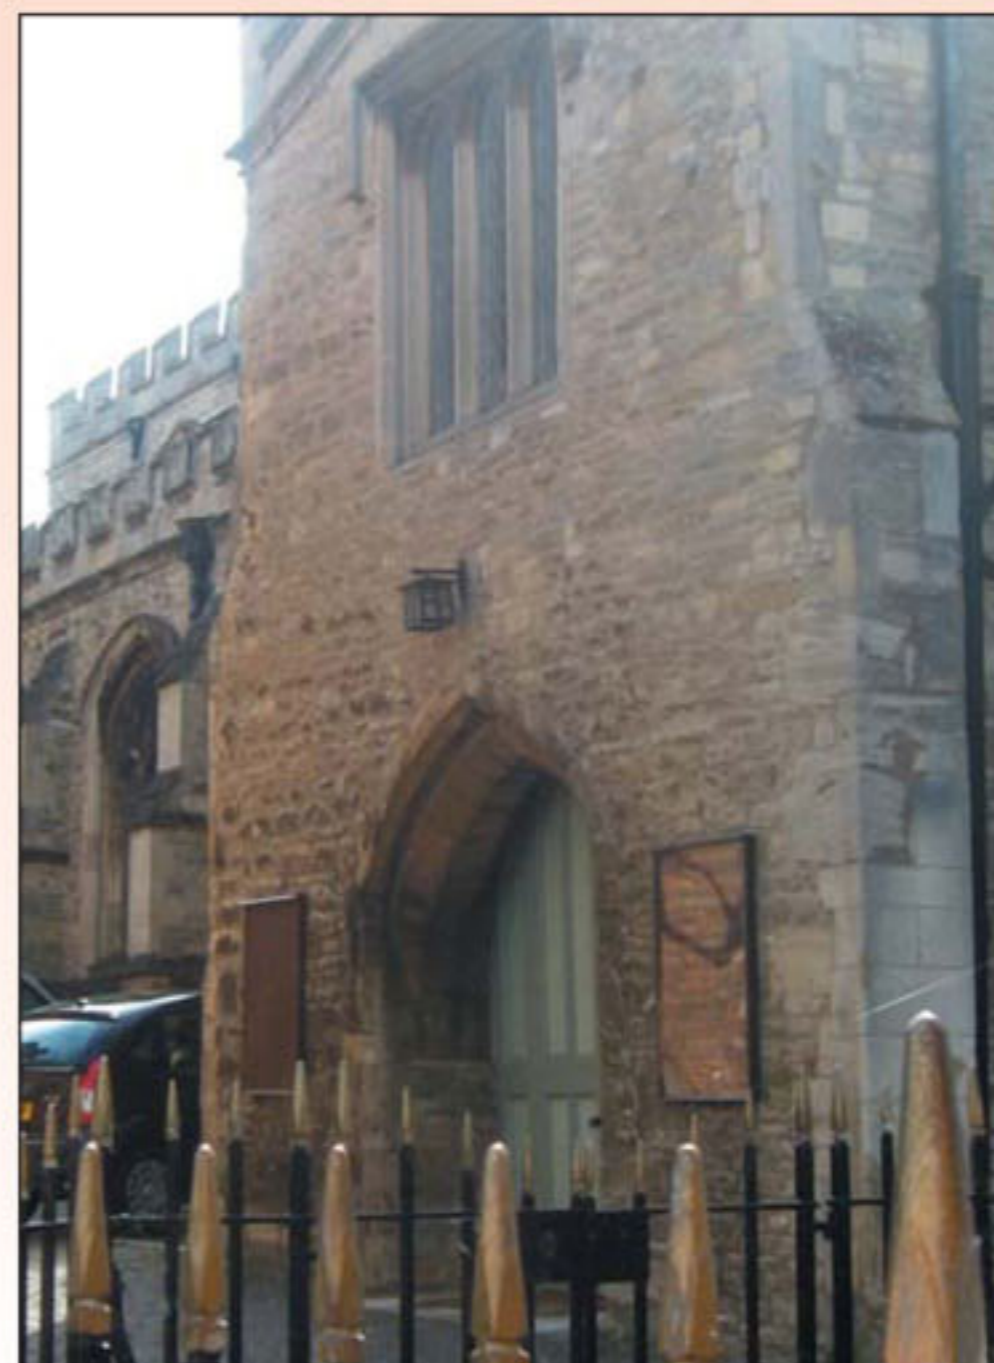

St. Peter and St. Paul's church is situated in the High Street of Newport Pagnell. The church was built in 1350, but it didn't have a tower. The tower was added in the 16th century.

When work was done to change the entrance of the church, they found the coffins belonging to the Revis family. They were well known for a lace making business in Newport Pagnell. Mr Revis became rich due to his business and he helped the community by building houses called almshouses. They were for the poor people who didn't have anywhere to live.

The church graveyard was full so the gravestones were used as a path. A bridge was built which leads to a new graveyard. People think it is haunted by the ghost of a man who fell down the well.
